

G.L.O.B.A.L. Justice and Northwest Christian University are pleased to present a collaborative educational opportunity available to students at NCU and other educational institutions around the country and globe. Through NCU's online programs, G.L.O.B.A.L. presents two fully online courses:

Global Justice:
Principles & Practice

&

Global Advocacy & Leadership

ABOUT G.L.O.B.A.L. JUSTICE & NORTHWEST CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY

G.L.O.B.A.L. JUSTICE is a nonprofit organization based in Loveland, CO. G.L.O.B.A.L. is dedicated to extending Geopolitical. Learning. Opportunities. for Biblical. Advocacy. & Leadership to equip the generations to learn, lead, and do justice. G.L.O.B.A.L. informs the broader community about global concerns and promotes the work of advocacy organizations addressing global injustices and educational institutions preparing the next generation of advocates. G.L.O.B.A.L.'s Education Consortium is a network of colleges, universities, and graduate/law schools committed to biblical justice. For more information visit: www.globaljusticeonline.org

Learn. Lead. Do Justice.

Northwest Christian University is a nonprofit, faith based educational institution based in Eugene, OR. NCU provides a transformational educational experience that champions wisdom, faith and service, providing graduates with superb career preparation within a Christ-centered environment. NCU offers both traditional and non-traditional, undergraduate and graduate programs. NCU offers learning experiences beyond the campus through regional, national, and global missions trips, urban outreach and community service projects, and other service learning opportunities. For more information visit: www.nwcu.edu

G.L.O.B.A.L.
JUSTICE

&

NORTHWEST
CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY

PRESENT A
COLLABORATIVE EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY

Global Advocacy &

Leadership

(Spring 2018)

&

Global Justice:

Principles and Practice

(Fall 2018)

GLOBAL JUSTICE: PRINCIPLES & PRACTICE

This course studies the principles and practice of global justice. The course reviews both biblical principles and human rights standards of justice and its application to a range of international political, civil, economic, social, and cultural justice issues. The course also reviews key institutions -- governmental, intergovernmental, and non-governmental--that address global injustices and international policies. In addition, the course discusses the role of individuals and communities in the pursuit of biblical justice.

GLOBAL ADVOCACY & LEADERSHIP

This course studies the principles and practices of global advocacy and leadership. The course reviews both biblical principles and leadership standards of advocacy on a range of international political, civil, economic, social, and cultural justice issues. The course also reviews key institutions--governmental, intergovernmental, and non-governmental--that address global injustices and international policies. In addition, the course discusses nonprofit management and related leadership best practices for effective advocacy in nongovernmental, governmental, and other organizations.

COURSE REGISTRATION

Students need to be registered for courses two weeks prior to the start date of each class. You can inquire about registration by contacting the NCU Admissions Office at adultdegree@ncu.edu or by calling 541-684-7343.

COURSE SCHEDULE

Global Advocacy & Leadership:
January 15th, 2018 -
March 9th, 2018

Global Justice: Principles & Practice: Fall 2018

CREDITS & ACCREDITATION

Each course is a three-credit class. Non-degree seeking students may take courses at NCU at discounted rate of $250.00 per credit.

GLOBAL JUSTICE: PRINCIPLES & PRACTICE

Will offer to students from a range of programs the opportunity to learn not only the principles that underlie our most pressing global justice concerns but how those issues are and can be addressed in our world.

GLOBAL ADVOCACY & LEADERSHIP

Will offer to students both advocacy and management principles and practical steps to be effective as a global advocacy leader for global justice initiatives, programs, and organizations.